

"Every day, a tremendous amount of money gets exchanged in the real estate sector. ... Fraudsters understand the significance that technology now plays in the real estate transaction, so that is where they focus their efforts."

Michael Sohn, Supervisory Special Agent with the FBI

Presenting: How Cyber Criminals Seek to Victimize You And What You Can Do About It

Thursday
June 15, 2017
9:00AM - 10:30AM

Registration $10.00
8:30AM - 9:00AM
Followed by Breakfast

Foundation Center
11633 S. Western Avenue
Los Angeles 90047

Must RSVP to Info@InglewoodBOR.com or Call (310) 671-3650

Supervisory Special Agent Michael Sohn is currently leading a squad at the FBI Los Angeles Field Division that is responsible for investigating computer and high-technology crimes involving national security matters. His investigative experience includes cyber terrorism, Advanced Persistent Threat (APT), and various criminal computer intrusion matters. Prior to his employment with the FBI, he worked as a Cyber Counterintelligence Officer for the Department of the Army, a Counter Terrorism officer for the Defense Intelligence Agency, a consultant in the Information Technology industry, and a U.S. Army Officer. Michael received a Bachelor of Science in Computer Science from the United States Marine Academy, West Point and a Master of Science in Computer Information Systems from Boston University.